By enabling you to perform complex analysis right at the desktop – such as the number of procedures broken down by provider and CPT code – Centricity Practice Solution quickly transforms transactional data into meaningful business knowledge you can use to improve practice performance.

of Success.

With the increase in pay for performance programs, the capability to track, measure and report care quality outcomes is more vital than ever. Centricity Practice Solution uses a uniform clinical vocabulary, so you can benchmark clinical data within your clinic, and compare your performance to national standards.

What's more, GE works with you to help you reach your practice's full potential: improving workflows to increase profitability and patient care quality. GE is a leader in Six Sigma methodologies that promote rapid, process-driven implementation, ongoing care improvements and world-class service and support.

With GE, you have a trusted partner you can rely on for the long term to help you advance the performance of your practice.
